Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claim 51-66 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The cited claims include 'in a carrier wave' which is a signal and thus claimed invention fails to provide a concrete, tangible and useful result. Signal per se is not statutory subject matter. See State Street Bank & Trust Co. v. Signature Financial Group, Inc., 47 USPQ2d 1596, 1601-02 (Fed. Cir. 1998). Also, claim language may be interpreted to be as functional descriptive material (i.e. program) that is encoded on a readable media if information storage medium is computer readable. Functional descriptive material includes data structures and computer programs that impart functionality when encoded on computer readable media.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 51-66 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
